Dear Sir,

Hope you are doing well. It was nice to talk to you after a long time.
Regarding the field visit for the final year BSc. students, the group consists of a total of 53 students (29 girls and 24 boys) and four accompanying staff. We plan to visit Belgaum and Malvern area during the period of end September (20- 28 Sept.). I request you to kindly give us directions on the possible geological sites to visit. Kindly let me know if there are any mines that may be useful to visit and collect some good samples for our museum. I understand that the group is little large, but I request you to kindly help us with arranging the accommodation if possible in any hostels.
It would be very helpful if you could accompany us to the field as I am aware that the proposed area of our field visit falls under your area of expertise.
If we come by train to Belgaum, will it be possible to hire two vehicles locally and move around and also to Malvern and return by train from Goa. Or else we will come by bus all the way from here to Belgaum. Kindly advice me on this as well.

Thank you for your time and help.

Kind regards, Linto

To,

The Director,

National Centre for Earth Science Studies

Post Box No.7250,

Akkulam, Thiruvananthapuram – 695 011, India

Dear Sir,

Department of Geology and Environmental Science, Christ College Autonomous, Thrissur, Kerala is organizing an International conference on Geology: Emerging methods and applications during January 17-19, 2019. The primary aim of the conference is to disseminate the geological research and methods being carried out in the main stream focused Central research Institutes and Universities to the students and early career researchers of State Universities and Colleges.
I have attached the first circular of the program along with this email for your information and reference.

We have launched a website with all the details. Please see the details of the conference in the following link at http://christcollegeijk.edu.in/gem2019/ . The inaugural session of the conference included with a special theme public lecture on “Climate Change and Extreme Weather Events” presented by Prof. Dr. Madhavan Nair RAJEEVAN, Secretary to the Government of India Ministry of Earth Sciences (MoES), Chairman, ESSO and Chairman, Earth Commission, who has kindly agreed to come for the event.

Since NCESS is the only prominent Central government research institute in the field of Earth Science in Kerala, I believe your presence in the event would be highly valued. I take this opportunity to invite you to the event to give a key note address on recent advances in Seismology.

In connection with the conference, we are also looking for potential co-organizers for the program who can provide some financial assistance and scientific expertise to organize the program. We had organized a similar event in the year 2017 and we received good response from all over the country. The program was funded and jointly organized by Ministry Earth Science, Govt. of India, Science and Engineering Research Board, Govt. of India and Kerala State Council for Science, Technology and Environment, Govt. of Kerala. It was inaugurated by Prof. Dr. Manfred Frechen, Leibniz Institute for Applied Geophysics, Hannover and a special key note address was given by Prof. Dr. Rajeev Nigam. The program was attended by over 150 participants including senior scientists, early career researchers and students. We have received 69 abstracts including 40 oral presentations, number of posters and invited sessions. The proceedings of that conference are under review now to be published in the Proceedings of Indian National Science Academy (PINSA).

As National Centre for Earth Science Studies is an Institute of National Importance in Kerala and play an active role in directing Earth Science research to focus, I believe it would be very ideal to have your Institute as co-organizer of the event. We hope to bring maximum number of participants from across the Country to attend the event by providing needy students and early career researchers with assistance towards their travel and accommodation. I request you to kindly grant Rs. 1,50,000.00 from your Institution to make this scientific venture a successful one with your participation.The financial assistance will be primarily be used for assisting students and early career researchers from various Universities and Colleges to participate in the event.

I assure that the meeting will play an important role in molding the future geo-scientists of the Nation.

I request you to kindly do the needful for making this event a successful one.

Yours sincerely,

Linto Alappat
